Thumbs up to Jacob Beaton @ Tea Creek for the wonderful program he has for the people & community. The documentary was very informative & heartfelt.....a great eye opener for us. Definitely need to go back to the land in so many ways, food harvesting being one of them.

Huge thumbs up to the Office of Gitanmaax for the very fun Pumpkin Patch day that was open to everyone. My kids were so happy to walk around & find a pumpkin to bring home. They also loved the leaves being tossed while getting a picture taken & the horse cart ride. Thank you so much for this wonderful day!!!!

The Perils of Climbing Mount Everest

Last week the boot and sock (and foot) of Brit Andrew Comyn “Sandy” Irvine was found on Mount Everest’s Rongbuk Glacier. Irvine disappeared on a quest to summit the world’s highest mountain one hundred years ago. George Mallory disappeared on the same 1924 expedition. He was found in 1999 by an expedition specifically looking for Irvine and Mallory.

Since 1953 when New Zealand’s Edmund Hillary and Nepalese Sherpa Tenzing Norwary were the first to crest the mountain, there have been approximately 11,346 successful summit ascents of Mount Everest by 6098 people. Nepalese Sherpas have summited Mount Everest the most by far, with Kami Rita holding the record with 30 summits from 1994 to 2024. Eight Canadians have accomplished the feat, Elia Saikaly five times.

Three hundred and forty people have perished trying to summit or returning from summiting, including eight this year. The vast majority of attempts are made in April and May, and it takes about a week to climb to the peak from Base Camp, as climbers have to ascend to and descend from four additional camps over several days to acclimatize their bodies to the tremendous altitude.

Thumbs down for a family that ignores their dead brother’s last wishes & steals his property before his grave is even cold. Shameful. All their mouths run with black ink.

Halloween
Quote of the Week

There is no group therapy or psychiatry or community social services for the child who must cope with the thing under the bed or in the cellar every night, the thing which leers and capers and threatens just beyond the point where vision will reach. The same lonely battle must be fought night after night and the only cure is the eventual ossification of the imaginary faculties, and this is called adulthood.

— Stephen King, Salem’s Lot

The staff of the Grace Lynn Centre has been making sandwiches and buying fruit and granola bars for the 30 people who are OAT clients. This means the clients are receiving Opioid Agonist Therapy to help battle addiction. They see a Northern Health OAT nurse every day. About a year ago we were asked if we could provide a simple sandwich and a piece of fruit 4 days a week and fruit and granola bars for Fridays. The program started with 20 people and is now at 30 people. The food has been really helpful to the people experiencing addiction and we want to continue. We have received funding through the Wrinch Memorial Foundation and donations from Jocelyne McLean’s comedy night proceeds, BVCU and RDKS, but this is still several thousand dollars short of what it takes to run this program for a year! We are looking for financial donations. We are looking for food donations of meat, cheese, mayonnaise, fruit and granola bars. We are getting some bread from the Skeena Bakery but could use more.

New affordable apartments renting soon in Hazelton

Ama sii anjok “Good New Homes”

HAZELTON - Seniors, families, individuals and people living with disabilities in the Upper Skeena area will soon have access to affordable housing as construction is nearing completion on 31 rental homes.

Located at 2720 Highway 62, across from the Hazelton High School and the new Upper Skeena Recreation Centre, the three-storey building will include one, two and three bedroom units, six of which are fully accessible. Other amenities include a modest multipurpose room, indoor bike storage and a laundry room. The grounds are landscaped with a well equipped playground to the south. All units will be equipped with standard kitchen appliances, with the larger units also including washers and driers.

To ensure affordability the building has 6 units with “deep subsidy” support, 15 units with “Rent Geared to Income” support and the remaining 10 homes with rents set at affordable market rates.

The Wrinch Memorial Foundation Society will manage the new building which is currently scheduled to be ready for occupancy in March. More details will follow in the next month or two, concerning the BC Housing application process, income testing, and the anticipated rent schedule.
