"Well, that does it! Look at our furniture! The Shuelers have visited us for the last time!"

SEP 11 On This Day

Never Forget 9/11

In 2001, two hijacked planes struck the Twin Towers in New York City, and a third hijacked plane crashed into the U.S. Department of Defense headquarters near Arlington, Virginia. A fourth plane on route to Washington, D.C. carried passengers and crew who fought against the hijackers, forcing the plane to land in a field before it could reach its target. This terrorist attack, known as 9/11, killed 2,977 and forever changed the world. 25 years later, hundreds of people continue to recount this day, a tragedy that will never be forgotten.

Fun Fact

When you wake up in the morning you are about one centimeter taller. During the day, standing, walking and sitting pushes fluid out of the discs between our back bones causing our spine to compress. The cartilage in our knees will also have this type of compression when we stand up or sit down. Lying flat allows for the absorption of water causing the spine and cartilage in the knee to "spread out", however your spine compresses again as the day goes on and we are short again when we go to bed. When astronauts return from outer space they are measured as a few inches taller than their normal height due to the lack of gravitational forces on their spines.

 TIP of the WEEK
When you're helium balloon has lost its air, you can cut the picture out and place it on a t-shirt or any other material piece. Then place parchment paper over it and iron it on. Makes a great little keepsake.

 Thumbs down to organizations that poaches other peoples employees. What goes around comes around.
