Let's help Clint Wilson and Shasa DeVries from the Suskwa.

A few days ago their farmhouse was completely destroyed from a fire, taking everything they own. Clint was raised on this farm. It wasn't just somewhere he lived; it was his childhood home, a place filled with family history, lifelong memories, and everything he had built over the years. While we can't replace the sentimental belongings or memories tied to the farmhouse, we can come together as a community and help ease some of the financial pressure one faces after such a huge loss.
If you would like to help out during this time, a GoFundMe account has been set up or you can send funds directly to:

We thank all applicants for their interest in this position; however, only candidates selected for an interview will be contacted.

NOV 13

On This Day

I'M ON STRIKE!

In 1983, one of BC's largest protests came to an end. Operation Solidarity protested against the provincial government's proposed spending cuts and the labour legislation. Together thousands of workers, unions, and community organizations across BC grouped in demonstrations, strikes and rallies, while negotiations between union leader Jack Munro and Premier Bill Bennett finally announcing and agreement known as the Kelowna Accord.

Very crazy Weather We have going on!!

Fun Fact

El Niño

According to National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administrations October 2026 report, this El Nino is continuing to strengthen and is expected to last into early 2027, and at this point, it is an unusually strong one. The latest forecast suggests a warmer than normal winter, but doesn't mean that we won't get some cold snaps at some point.
